- Advocate on Capitol Hill and with executive branch agencies on a daily basis
- Help staff NSAC's Conservation, Energy, and Environment Issue Committee and one additional issue committee to be determined
- Draft policy documents, including legislative language, policy papers, testimony, rulemaking comment letters, and grassroots advocacy materials
- Write policy blogs on a regular basis
- Contribute to the organization's annual planning and priority setting, budgeting, and fundraising
- Participate in the planning and execution of coalition-wide meetings
- Assist with grassroots and grassroots outreach
- Represent NSAC at a variety of partner meetings in DC
- Represent NSAC at conferences and to the media

Desired Qualifications

- An deep understanding of and passion for sustainable agriculture, including agricultural conservation, food systems, and family farm livelihood and opportunity
- A working knowledge of the federal policy-making process
- Three or more years of Hill, agency, or lobbying experience or other agricultural policy experience
- Background with grassroots advocacy campaigns
- Excellent written and verbal communications and public speaking skills
- Experience with print, radio, and online media
- Experience with large, multi-organization grassroots coalitions
- Ability to both work independently and be a good team player
- Willingness to work around a demanding congressional schedule and administrative deadlines
- Willingness to travel domestically several times a year

Compensation and Benefits -- Salary is on a non-profit scale and will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. NSAC offers an excellent employer paid benefits package and a collaborative work environment.

Application -- Please send resume, your salary history, the names and contact information of three references, and a brief cover letter including an explanation of your interests in sustainable agriculture and federal policy to Jeremy Emmi at jemmi@sustainableagriculture.net.

NSAC is an equal opportunity employer. We actively encourage people of color to apply for this position.
